Immigrants in hiding, but no sign of threatened mass raids from ICE

"If the word gets out, it gets out," the president said.

Immigrant families and their defenders were on standby Sunday for mass deportation arrests across the United States threatened by President Donald Trump, but by early afternoon there were no signs of a nationwide operation.

Trump said on Friday that a wave of arrests of immigrants facing deportation would start over the weekend. The multiday operation was expected to target around 2,000 people in about 10 cities who have been ordered deported by an immigration judge but have yet to leave the country.

But as immigrants stayed inside their homes and lawyers stood by to provide free legal aid, there were no reports of large enforcement operations.

"We are doing targeted enforcement actions against specific individuals who have had their day in immigration court and have been ordered removed by an immigration judge," Acting Immigration and Customs Enforcement Director Matt Albence told FOX News when asked for an update.

Mary Bauer at the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) said there were no confirmed operations in large cities such as Atlanta and Miami that her civil rights organization monitors.

Nor were there reports of mass arrests from the American Immigration Council, which has lawyers on standby to help people taken to the country's largest family detention center in Dilley, Texas.

"Immigrants and immigrant communities all over the country are in hiding and people are living in these terrified, terrorized ways, because that is the point of this whole action, whether enforcement actions take place or not," said Bauer, the SPLC's deputy legal director.

Mayors of large U.S. cities, nearly all Democrats, have said their law enforcement agencies will not cooperate with ICE on deportations.

New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio said the city had three "confirmed situations involving ICE operations" on Saturday.

"In no case was it reported to us that the agent found the individual they were looking for to make any arrests," he wrote on Twitter, adding that so far there had been no confirmed ICE activity on Sunday.

An ICE spokeswoman declined to comment on operations, citing the safety of the agency's personnel.

Democratic officials and migrant activists have told immigrants they have the right not to open their doors to ICE agents, unless presented with a warrant signed by a judge.

The threatened arrests come after migrant apprehensions hit a 13-year high in May at the southwest border, many of them Central Americans fleeing poverty and gang violence in their home countries. REUTERS

Rouhani: Iran ready to talk to US if sanctions lifted

2 Iran is ready to hold talks with the United States if Washington lifts sanctions and returns to the 2015 nuclear deal it quit last year, Iranian President Hassan Rouhani said in a televised speech on Sunday. President Donald Trump's administration says it is open to negotiations with Iran on a more far-reaching agreement on nuclear and security issues. But Iran has made any talks conditional on first being able to export as much oil as it did before the United States withdrew from the nuclear pact with world powers in May 2018. "We have always believed in talks.... If they lift sanctions, end the imposed economic pressure and return to the deal, we are ready to hold talks with America today, right now and anywhere," Rouhani said in his Sunday speech. Confrontations have escalated, culminating in a plan for U.S. airstrikes on Iran last month that Trump called off at the last minute. REUTERS

9 Killed as plane crashes during Sweden skydiving trip

3 Nine Swedes were killed when their plane crashed during a skydiving trip near Umea, a small university city in northern Sweden, authorities said on Sunday. The small plane, designed to carry parachutists, crashed on an island on the Ume River shortly after takeoff from Umea airport, police spokesman Peder Jonsson said, adding that those onboard were on a skydiving trip. The police said that all the victims were Swedish, with one person holding dual citizenship. The names of the victims were not disclosed. King Carl XVI Gustaf expressed his sorrow in a statement. "In view of today's tragic air crash outside Umea, which took nine people's lives, I want to convey my condolences. My family and I send our thoughts to their families and relatives," Gustaf said on Facebook. REUTERS

Rain, flooding follow Barry as it spins from New Orleans

4 Tropical Storm Barry trudged through northwestern Louisiana on Sunday, dropping up to 15 inches of rain in some places to create life-threatening flood conditions along the Mississippi River. Barry, which made landfall as a Category 1 hurricane on Saturday then quickly weakened to a tropical storm, was 15 miles east-southeast of Shreveport with maximum sustained winds of 40 mph early Sunday afternoon.

Fears that Barry might devastate the low-lying city of New Orleans like Hurricane Katrina did in 2005 were unfounded, but rain in the forecast could still cause life-threatening flooding until Monday, the National Weather Service said. New Orleans saw light rain on Sunday morning, and churches and several businesses were open, including some on Tchoupitoulas Street along the flooded Mississippi River. REUTERS

The mayor was absent on a night that darkened Broadway shows, stalled subways and downed traffic lights.

letters@metro.us

Reactions to the West Side blackout that hit the city before sunset on Saturday night ranged from Broadway's storied show-must-go-on resilience to the unusual question, "Where is the mayor?"

When TV news coverage began, City Council Speaker Corey Johnson was the de facto city spokesman, providing updates via Twitter and on-air interviews. Mayor Bill de Blasio was campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination in Waterloo, Iowa, and didn't appear on camera until well after the power outage began.

Although de Blasio appeared up-to-date on the circumstances behind the blackout — a mechanical failure at a Con Edison substation at about 6:47 p.m. set off a chain of outages, ultimately dimming 30 blocks along Broadway, Rockefeller Center and Times Square — and its status as the night wore on, that didn't prevent Gov. Andrew Cuomo from getting in a dig. "Mayors are important and situations like this come up," he said Saturday night on CNN. "And you have to be on-site."

Cuomo deployed state troopers during the outage and said on Sunday that he would tour the transformer that caused the power failure, the AP reported. "We have to have a system that is designed to handle disruptions and rather than domino, we have a redundancy in this system so this doesn't happen," Cuomo said. "And that's what we're going to work on and I want to see with my own Queens eyes the transformer that started it all."

De Blasio ultimately elected to travel back to New York City late Saturday night. In the meantime, the estimated number of those affected ticked upward: From 27,000 around 7:30 p.m. to 38,000, before an estimate of 90,000 at 10 p.m. shrank to the official number of 72,000.

On social media, a few city residents pointed out that July 13 was the 42nd anniversary of the infamous 1977 blackout which lasted 25 hours and led to looting throughout the five boroughs.

This time, the story was much different. Traffic lights went out, but Good Samaritans sprang into action to direct traffic. Multiple reports of stalled subway trains and stuck elevators resolved without reports of serious injuries. According to the MTA, five subway trains carrying 2,875 riders were trapped in Manhattan subway tunnels, but all were evacuated by 9 p.m. without incident.

Doctors Urge Knee Pain Sufferers “Don’t Get ANY Surgery Until You See This...”

After Years Of Intense Study, NYC Medical Clinic Finally Reveals It's Best “Treatment Formula” For Helping Knee Arthritis Sufferers... Especially When So Many Other Treatments Have Failed

NEW YORK CITY - If you are even remotely interested in discovering how the latest scientific discoveries can possibly help your knee pain... then this is going to be the most exciting information you ever read.

Here is why: Knee pain can not only be brutal... it's complex. In other words, it's not a simple, easy fix.

But I'm sure you already know that. Or you wouldn't be reading this.

That's the bad news.

Now for some good news...

Over the years, NYC Pain MD has treated countless knee pain sufferers. And in that time have been able to constantly improve.

And we have come up with a treatment formula that we have found works best and helps the most patients.

This formula has reduced or even eliminated the pain in many. Some were scheduled for knee replacement surgery and felt good enough to cancel their surgery.

It's amazing when patients who were once in excruciating pain... start feeling better. And start walking again. And playing golf. Or tennis. And finally getting their lives back.

Especially when they had gone to other doctors and tried so many other things.

So many had given up hope.

Sound familiar? If it does... check this out...

The Treatment Formula

While I can't give you the entire treatment formula here (there is not enough space and WAY too complicated) I can give you the basics. And more important... I can tell you what it might be able to do for YOU.

The first and most important part of the formula is: PATIENT SELECTION.

This means, NYC Pain MD has a detailed screening process to tell who is most likely to be helped by their treatments... and who is not.

If you qualify, you have the opportunity to move forward and experience the worldclass treatments that NYC Pain MD offers.

If you do not, NYC Pain MD will tell you what they think your best options are and help you find the right doctor for you.

NYC Pain MD “Treatment Formula” A protocol of advanced medical treatments that has already helped thousands.

If you qualify, NYC Pain MD offers some of the most advanced medical treatments available today all using the most advanced imaging technology including:

- Viscosupplementation (gel injections)
- Platelet Rich Plasma (PRP)
- Stem Cell Therapy (Lipogems)
- Genicular Knee Block
- And more.

Once again, there is not enough space to go into detail about all these procedures... but here are some things you MUST KNOW....

Viscosupplementation is where a doctor introduces a gel-like medicine directly into the joint space. This helps to lubricate the joints often relieving some, most or even all of your pain. Results can last for 6 months to several years.

Many have had these treatments without good results. However, NYC Pain MD feels this is because doctors often do these “gel injections” without advanced imaging to guide them. Research shows they will often miss the joint. If the joint is missed... it is impossible for the treatment to work.

NYC Pain MD has spared no expense and used advanced imaging to guide the injections assuring the medicine gets into the joint. We frequently get results when this treatment was a failure done elsewhere.

The second thing you must know is... our treatment plans are custom made for every patient. And we have all these treatments offered in the same place. Many times you will get the best results from multiple treatments. At NYC Pain MD your doctors will all be there and will all know each other and you and your case. They work together and give you the best treatments and care without you having to go anywhere else.

The ability to select the right patients and then have the potential to give them any or all of these treatments... with all the necessary medical technology... under one roof... has allowed NYC Pain MD to get better results than they thought possible.

Here's What You Should Do Next

If you suffer with knee pain... and any of this made sense to you... NYC Pain MD would like to offer you a No-cost screening. That screening is the first step in our “Treatment Formula.”

You will get to see a doctor and ask any questions you have. Your doctor will take the first steps to see if you qualify for treatments and give you recommendations.

The best thing is... you will finally get direction. You will know what's going on and what is your best course of action... step-by-step. The treatments will be explained in detail and you will breathe a big sigh of relief finally knowing what's going on and what can or cannot be done.

There is so much we want to say to help you... but I'm out of space. Give us a call at 877-296-6310 and take the first step. That step is free without obligation.

President Trump delivers speech during visit at Dero Aerospace in Milwaukee.

Trump tells freshman Dems to 'go back' and 'fix' their countries

The president appeared to be referring the new "squad" of Democrats.

President Donald Trump on Sunday told a group of mostly American-born Democratic congresswomen to "go back and help fix the totally broken and crime infested places from which they came," a comment that was condemned by Democrats as racist.

"So interesting to see 'Progressive' Democrat Congresswomen, who originally came from countries whose governments are a complete and total catastrophe ... viciously telling the people of the United States ... how our government is to be run," Trump said in a series of three comments on Twitter.

While he did not mention names, Trump appeared to be referring to first-year Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez of New York, Ilhan Omar of Minnesota, Ayanna Pressley of Massachusetts, and Rashida Tlaib of Michigan — a group known as "the squad" that has been very critical of Trump and also of the current Democratic leadership of the House.

Only Omar, whose family left Somalia as refugees and arrived in Minneapolis in 1997, was born outside the United States.

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, a California Democrat, has feuded with the group in an increasingly bitter intra-party fight, but came to their defense Sunday along with other Democratic colleagues. She called Trump's comments "xenophobic."

"When @realDonaldTrump tells four American Congresswomen to go back to their countries, he reaffirms his plan to 'Make America Great Again' has always been about making America white again," she said on Twitter.

"Do I fit into the president's category?" U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin of Illinois said on CBS' "Face the Nation," mentioning his family's Lithuanian heritage.

"Thank goodness," he said of Omar's journey from refugee to one of only two Muslim women elected to Congress, along with Tlaib, a native of Detroit. "That is what America holds as a dream. The president should not diminish it." REUTERS

New board chairman takes the helm at VillageCare

New York City businessman and attorney John W. Behre was recently elected as chair of the Board at VillageCare, which has offered managed care as well as post-acute and community-based programs throughout the city for over 40 years.

Behre took over the post in May, succeeding David Sidwell, who served as chair for 12 years and will remain on VillageCare's Board of Directors.

"I am delighted to remain on VillageCare's Board of Directors under John's leadership," said Sidwell. "I am grateful for the commitment of VillageCare's Board and leadership staff to the people we serve, and I believe many great achievements are ahead as we continue our organization's mission of promoting healing, better health and well-being to the fullest extent possible."

Behre has been a VillageCare Board member since 2010 and most recently served as chair of the Finance Committee. Prior to that he also served as chair of the Audit Committee. Behre is counsel to The Richman Group Inc., a national tax credit syndicator and real estate developer. He graduated with a B.A.

degree in history from Columbia College and received his J.D. degree from New York University.

"John's successful business acumen and law practices, combined with his longtime passion for community-based health care delivery, will bring tremendous value to VillageCare, and by extension to each individual we serve," said Emma DeVito, president and CEO at VillageCare. METRO

On July 18, Ariana and the Rose will hold her famous "Light + Space" show in Brooklyn.

 BECCA GLASSER-BAKER
Rebecca.Glasser@metro.us

Ariana and the Rose is bringing back her famous "Light + Space" show, which is set to take place on July 18 in Brooklyn. The show is part concert, underground art show, intergalactic sci-fi film, and part glitter party.

Ariana from Ariana and the Rose told Metro that the main reason why she wanted to create this experience was because she "wanted an immersive event that bridged music." It took her about a year to create, design and develop the show.

Ariana and the Rose brings the 'Light + Space' show to Brooklyn

She also spoke with Metro about the inspiration behind the show. She said she was inspired by the dance music of the '70s and '80s, which played in clubs and got people dancing, and she wanted to bring that back. She wanted to make something that "surrounded audiences" and gave them an experience instead of a typical concert or theater show. She explained: "I'm not trying to tell a story, I'm trying to convey an entire world, an experience."

Additionally, she added that it is called the "Light + Space" show because she was inspired by 1970s light and space movement, started by James Turrell. She loved his work because, "He made light that felt tangible in a room and you would never see where it was coming from." She hopes that the "Light + Space" show will have the same kind of experience for attendees.

Ariana and the Rose isn't the only performer at this event; she joins a group of otherworldly interactive actors in a memorable performance. The show will also feature a DJ set by Mazurbate, and special guest Spencer Ludwig. It will be hosted by Amanda Lepore, CT Hedden, and Zero Waste Daniel.

Although the show occurred previously, Ariana wants to make sure attendees have a different experience every time they attend. This year, the show will feature an aura photographer who will take photos of attendees, and there will also be an interactive glitter bar with Lemonhead LA. From 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. there will also be an open bar from Sailor Jerry + Brockmans Gin.

She hopes that the "Light + Space" show will become one of those unforgettable New York City nights for locals and tourists alike.

For tickets, check out eventbrite.com; there will also be tickets at the door. The show takes place on July 18 at 8 p.m. at 3 Dollar Bill, 260 Mesele St., Brooklyn.

Demand Soars At NYC Medical Clinic For Promising Back Pain Treatment

Can This Medical Technology Possibly Eliminate Or Greatly Reduce Even The Most Severe Back Pain... Almost Instantly?

The Advanced Medical Treatment Every Back & Neck Pain Sufferer Needs To Know - No Matter How Bad The Pain Is Or How Many Other Treatments Have Failed

NYC Pain MD is a medical clinic with two locations in New York City that has made a name for itself by treating the worst cases of back or neck pain.

Here is what every back and neck pain sufferer who has failed to respond to other treatments and does not want surgery should know about one of the best treatment options available today for severe back and neck pain including when, why and where you should consider this treatment to get maximum results.

If you suffer with back, neck or nerve pain, you have probably already tried many treatments... especially countless pain medications.

Experienced doctors understand that even though pain medications such as anti-inflammatory pain pills are part of the recommended early treatment plan for back pain... they are rarely the answer.

In most cases they have minimal, short term results (if any) and have a laundry list of potential side effects. Some being serious and even life threatening.

Are there any better options?

Thankfully, advancements in science and technology come extremely fast. And now there is very good option to help relieve the pain.

An option that a lot of back and neck pain sufferers may have never heard of before.

Before we get into these treatments, please understand this...

NYC Pain MD is a REAL medical clinic that has treated the worst cases of back pain. Patients travel from all over to be treated at one of their clinics for all sorts of joint and muscle pain because they want the best medical treatments available.

What you are about to discover is a REAL medical treatment. Not some miracle cure you see on infomercials or on the internet.

Know this fact: There is no one treatment that will help every case of back pain. And we cannot guarantee this treatment will work for you. But this treatment has already helped countless back and neck pain sufferers who had given up hope. I bet many just like you.

What is this treatment? It's called...

Radiofrequency Neurotomy

"Radiofrequency Neurotomy" is often referred to as RF for short.

RF is a procedure that is based on the theory that blocking the nerve supply to the painful area may alleviate pain and restore function.

There are many nerves around your spine and one of their jobs is to sense PAIN.

Radiofrequency waves are delivered to these nerves under advanced imaging to "block" the nerves.

Two procedures are performed. First, a test, diagnostic "Block" procedure is done to determine if the procedure is going to decrease pain and improve function.

If this first "test" procedure is successful, the Radio Frequency Neurotomy is scheduled and performed for longer term relief.

What Results Can You Expect?

Like all real medical procedures... results vary for individual patients. No good and ethical doctor would guarantee any exact results for any procedure... that's just not how things work and it would be less than honest.

That's being said, it is not uncommon for patients to get complete, if not significant relief of their pain shortly after the treatment.

How Long Do The Results Last?

This procedure "blocks" the nerves pain signals... it does not destroy them. Therefore, the results are safe but not completely permanent. But, many patients get relief for 6 months... 12 months.... 18 months for some and some even longer. The great news is - another procedure can be safely preformed for more relief if necessary.

Advanced Treatment Uses Radio Frequencies To Relieve Serious Neck & Back Pain

Science rescues back & neck pain sufferers?: Radio Frequency Waves are used to block the nerve supply to the painful area and may alleviate pain and restore function to many.

While we cannot claim this is a complete "permanent cure" but... it can be a god-send for so many who were in constant pain.

Really... what would it be worth it to you could get out of pain for long enough so you could start enjoying your everyday life again?

Would it be worth it to be able to finally get a good nights sleep again?

How about being able to go for a simple walk or just do your basic daily chores without worrying about so much pain?

Is It Safe?

Yes. This procedure has been done countless times and continues to have an excellent safety record. It is minimally invasive and is not surgical.

Who Should Try This Treatment?

RF should be considered after other treatments, such as anti-inflammatory pain medication and physical therapy do not offer good enough results.

RF has also been found effective AFTER back surgery when patient's still feel pain.

The pain after a failed back surgery can be debilitating for some and this procedure may be the only thing that helps give you relief.

What To Do Next If You Are In Pain And The "X" Factor

Here is the "X" factor many do not consider that might be the difference between you getting the best possible treatment or not.

Many experts suggest choosing a medical clinic that offers all these treatments and has the proper, most advanced technology all under one roof without the need for a surgical center or hospital.

Major Savings In Time And Costs Of Care?

NYC Pain MD's method allows you to avoid expensive hospital or out patient surgeon-center facility fees which often run 3 to 4 times the cost of the procedure itself. And you don't have to go through the huge stress and time consuming process of going all over the city to outside centers. All the NYC Pain MD treatments can be done in out in-office procedure suites saving you stress, time and dollars. NYC Pain MD believes this additional "X" factor is one of the reasons so many back pain sufferers travel from all over to be treated at one of their advanced medical clinics.

month. These screenings are a way for back pain sufferers to get some of their questions answered and see if they are a candidate for one of the cutting-edge treatments offered at NYC Pain MD. If you would like a complimentary screening, just call 877-907-2934 and tell the scheduling expert who answers the phone, "I would like a complimentary back pain screening."

The screenings fill up fast every month. If you do not call in time to get one this month, the expert will schedule you for next month.

Jermaine Dupri looks back on 25 years of So So Def Recordings

We spoke with the music mogul ahead of his new documentary, "Power, Influence and Hip-Hop," on WE TV.

patrick.king@metro.us

If you are of a certain age, the music that producer and rapper Jermaine Dupri has created probably soundtracked your childhood in one way or another. At least that's what I told him when I got the chance to speak with him over the phone.

From the '90s through the early 2000s, it was just unavoidable. Dupri first hit it big producing hits for the likes of Kriss Kross. He then used his success to start his wildly successful label, So So Def Recordings. The label has had an incredible roster as well as managed artists over the years, like Usher, Mariah Carey and TLC, who have consistently dominated the charts. Last year, the Atlanta native was the second hip-hop artist to be inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame (the first being Jay-Z). Given this huge achievement, Dupri teamed up with WE TV to film a documentary leading up to his induction, but then quickly decided that it would be better to take a look through his entire career and 25 years of the So So Def record label. The resulting hour-long film, "Power, Influence and Hip-Hop: The Incredible Rise of So So Def Recordings," premieres this Thursday, July 18, at 10 p.m., and features a who's who in the world of hip-hop and R&B.

In the new documentary, you say that you made your first beats on a drum machine that you bought on layaway. That's such a good example of the do-or-die drive that you had to make things happen since there was such a time limit. Now, you are celebrating 25 years of the label you started, So So Def Recordings. It must be crazy seeing how hard you worked to get here.

Well, the creation of it — you don't actually get the opportunity to see it the way it is once it's made. They'd be calling asking for pictures and I was annoyed! Some of this stuff, I think that people had already seen it! That's the one thing that I had to remove myself from is the fact that — and a lot of my artists have to remove themselves from as well — a lot of this information that we all feel everyone is privy to knowing, they don't know this information. It's interesting. Angie Martinez is a person that calls herself "The Voice of New York." I would have thought she knew my whole story. I did an interview with her and she was like, "I didn't know that Kriss Kross weren't rappers!" There's so much stuff that's in there that people didn't know. That's the part where I have to start stepping back from and allowing the doc to do what it's gotta do. It made me realize that some of my life I might have hindered myself by just taking for granted that people already knew it as opposed to making sure that this stuff was more concrete and in people's faces.

You are owed a lot of credit for putting Atlanta and Southern rap and R&B on the map. Is it humbling to see Atlanta as being one of the cultural meccas of the world now?

Yeah, but it's a lonely happiness. I remember a time when Atlanta had nothing. I remember a time when the BET Awards were talking about coming to Atlanta and I was lobbying for them to come to Atlanta. Once they got to Atlanta and the BET Awards came and left, it didn't seem like I was the person saying it. It seemed like it was a million other people saying it. So it's a very lonely happiness to see all of this stuff going on, because a lot of people act like they don't remember me being the only person championing this stuff.

In the documentary, you talk about how Atlanta was like Switzerland between the East Coast-

PROVIDED

West Coast beef of the '90s. What was going through your mind during that time? Why did you try to broker peace between the coasts?

Honestly, I wasn't paying attention to it! You know what I mean? That's really how the nature of Atlanta is. That's the nature of how I've moved through this industry for so many years. I never got caught up in it and I actually didn't think that the beef was that serious. But I made a record with Freeway and Jadakiss called "Hate in Your Blood." I wanted Freeway to do the hook and I wanted Jada to put a verse on the song. At the time when I did the song and had both of them come to Atlanta, at separate times, they was beefing with each other! I was aware of it, but I wasn't paying any attention to it. I was so focused on getting the song done that I wasn't even thinking, "These guys might not even want to do this because they're beefing." When I'm into my music, I'm not even thinking about, what's the public thing that's going on?

You don't focus on the spectacle, you focus on making the music.

Yeah, and that's the thing with the whole Bad Boy-Death Row thing. I wasn't caught up in it at all. Snoop is my homeboy, Puff is my homeboy, Biggie was my homeboy. I'm friends with all of these guys. Suge [Knight] as well! It was looked at as the neutral ground, but it was just the fact that I was friends with them. I never understood how their beef should change my friendship with them. I wasn't trying to take sides. I was friends with these people for one reason, and friends with these people for another reason.

In the documentary, you talk about some of the artists that you owe your career to, like Kriss Kross, Da Brat, Mariah Carey and countless others. Are there any specific songs or albums that you look at as being So So Def's biggest achievements?

No, not really. I don't think so. The majority of my records and the majority of my career has been questioned and a question mark to others [as to whether] it's going to work or not, and a lack of belief. Me seeing that prior to a lot of my music coming out, I never really feel like it's going to work. I'm always going into it thinking, "Man, I hope this works out." Because people are always looking at me and acting like this ain't goin' to pop.

You and Jay-Z are the only two hip-hop artists inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame. While this is an incredible honor, shouldn't there be more rappers inducted?

Nah. The reason why hip-hop hasn't been inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame is because there are not really a lot of artists out there who have had 20-plus-year careers. You had to have been writing records for 20-plus years, that's one of the formalities for you to get into the Songwriters Hall of Fame. Hip-hop is like fast food: You get it, you love it, and it's gone. It hasn't been something that people can do and continue to keep doing, you know?

You say at the end of the doc that you are going to make the biggest album of all time within the next 25 years. Are you working on that album right now?

Always! I say that because every time somebody interviews me or talks to me — just like you, you started this conversation by saying, "It's not every day you speak to someone that shaped your childhood." I didn't know I was shaping your childhood! You know what I'm saying? I don't know what record it's going to be. I don't know who the artist is that's going to make this album or this music that I'm talking about. But I do feel like if I shaped your childhood, if I made two of the biggest R&B records of our time with "The Emancipation of Mimi" [Mariah Carey] and "Confessions" [Usher] — if I have done those things, then I definitely feel I have the know-how and energy to create one of the biggest albums that music has ever seen.

RJ Barrett salvages Summer League, wards off naysayers

After premature concerns last week, the Knicks rookie wrapped up his Summer League in style over the weekend.

 JOE PANTORNO
joseph.pantorno@metro.us

If you're looking for the epicenter of horrendously premature and ridiculous hot takes, look no further than the NBA Summer League.

The early-offseason slate of games not only allows coaching staffs to get a look at fringe roster players, but it gives younger players the chance to start or continue developing their NBA games.

Most of the advertising toward viewers when it comes to the Summer League, however, is getting that first glimpse of each team's set of prized rookies. It's a quick dive in for them as they were chosen just weeks before the draft in late June.

That's usually lost when analyzing open performances as pundits, personalities and fans alike fly off the handle with predictions and comparisons based on a handful of exhibition games.

For New York Knicks rookie RJ Barrett, that's exactly what happened upon his introduction to life in the NBA.

The No. 3 pick of the draft — now the newest hope to help turn around a franchise mired in mediocrity and dysfunction over the past 20 years — experienced the full spectrum of reactions during his five-game stint in Las Vegas.

The Duke product couldn't have gotten off to a more concerning start at the Summer League.

RJ Barrett flirted with a triple-double in each of his final three Summer League games. GETTY IMAGES

Barrett shot just 22.2 percent from the field in 32 minutes of play in his debut against the New Orleans Pelicans, recording 10 points on 4-of-18 shooting from the field.

Things got even worse in his second game against the Phoenix Suns, putting up eight points on 3-of-15 shooting (20 percent).

Cue the panic. Pundits questioned his ability to make it in the NBA, fans started labeling him a bust.

Barrett's response? "I haven't played a game in three months."

It's a classic overreaction based on limited sample sizes. Even Stephen Curry had the basketball world questioning his legitimacy after he shot 32 percent from the field during his first Summer League in 2009.

After a two-day break, Barrett came back and began to find his form.

He put up 17 points on 42.9 percent shooting with 10 rebounds and six assists on July 9 against the Toronto Raptors. The following night against the Los Angeles Lakers, he added 21 points, 10 rebounds and three assists.

But it all came together on Saturday night against the Washington Wizards as Barrett saved his best outing for the Knicks' Summer League finale.

The 19-year-old was two rebounds away from a triple-double, posting 21 points and 10 assists in the process. It was his most efficient night as well, shooting 7-of-13 from the field.

Five outings, 15.4 points, 8.6 rebounds, 4.2 assists per game in his very first taste of the NBA.

Let's hold the phone on writing Barrett off, shall we? Just wait until he starts playing against the very best the league has to offer this fall.

After all, his game is projected to continue improving the more he settles into life with the Knicks.

Djokovic beats Federer in Wimbledon epic to win 5th title

Novak Djokovic again proved the toughest of nuts for Roger Federer to crack as he repelled everything the Swiss could throw at him to claim his fifth Wimbledon title in the first All England Club final to be decided by a tiebreaker on Sunday.

The defending champion was outshone at times on Centre Court and saved two match points deep into a gripping decider, but he dredged his tank of mental and physical resilience to claim a thrilling 7-6(5), 1-6, 7-6(4), 4-6, 13-12(3) win.

Nothing could split the players in an intoxicating final set — the match was already the longest Wimbledon singles final in history — when the club's new rule stipulating a tie-break at 12-12 in a deciding set was deployed for the first time in singles.

As he had done in the day's two other tie-

Novak Djokovic outlasted Roger Federer in a thrilling Wimbledon final on Sunday. GETTY IMAGES

breaks, the top-seeded Djokovic showed nerves of steel to crush Federer's hopes of claiming a ninth title and becoming the oldest man to win a Grand Slam title in the professional era.

Djokovic moved 6-3 ahead and, after the final point had to be replayed following a Hawkeye challenge, he could celebrate victory when a weary Federer framed a forehand.

In total, the match lasted an astounding four hours and 57 minutes.

"I think this was, a lot," Djokovic told ESPN. "Unfortunately in these kinds of matches, one player has to lose. It's quite unreal to be two match points down and come back. It's a bit strange to play a tie-break at 12-12 as well. I was actually hoping I could get to a tiebreak."

For that one player who had to lose, Federer was still gracious in defeat.

"I will try to forget," Federer joked. "It was a great match. It was long. It had everything. I had my chances and so did he. I thought we played some great tennis. In a way, I'm very happy with my performance as well. Novak, congratulations. That was crazy. Well done."

Victory took the 32-year-old Serbian level with Bjorn Borg for fourth place on the all-time list of men's winners at Wimbledon and increased his Grand Slam tally to 16 — four behind Federer. REUTERS
